THE HARTFORD
ACCIDENT
Insurance Company.
Cash Capital, $500,000.
B. D. HUBBARD, Pres. GEO. B. LESTER, Sec.
Insures against all forms of bodily injury induced by accidental means: such as dislocations, fractures, broken bones, ruptured tendons, bruises, cuts, stabs, gunshot wounds, crushing or mangling, burns and scalds, bites of mad dogs or serpents, unprovoked assaults by robbers or murderers, stroke of lightning or drowning &c.
The records of the years are filled with such accidents, and no doubt will be, so long as human carelessness exists. We are beset with them, from the cradle to the grave, and there is scarcely an individual who cannot refer, within the sphere of his own family or acquaintance, to some accident in which the indemnity offered by this company would have been a blessing worth much more than its cost.
Policies issued for long or short terms providing for weekly payments, in case of disability, and for the payment of the whole sum, in case of death.
The only company in the country that devotes itself wholly to accident insurance. A yearly policy covers accidents while travelling, while about one's business, while in the street, at home or abroad. The premium on each $1,000 is so small that every man is able to secure a policy without the slightest embarrassment. For full and complete particulars inquire of L. D. DAVIS, agent for Newport and vicinity. sep26-n&j

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.
SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC,
SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,
Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption. Frequently medicines that stop a cough will occasion the death of the patient; they lock up the liver, stop the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and in fact, they clog the action of the very organs that caused the cough. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are the causes of two-thirds of the cases of Consumption. Many persons complain of a dull pain in the side, constipation, general languor, pain in the shoulder-blade, feelings of drowsiness and restlessness, the food lying heavily on the stomach, accompanied with acidity and belching up of wind. These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver. Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and if the cough in these cases be suddenly checked, will find the stomach and liver clogged, resulting torpid and inactive, and almost before they are aware the lungs are a mass of nerves, and ulcerated, the result of which is death. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain opium or any thing calculated to check a cough suddenly. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juices of the stomach, aids digestion and creates a ravenous appetite. When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, or the symptoms otherwise of a bilious tendency, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required. These medicines are prepared only by J. H. SCHENCK & SON.
N. E. corner Sixth and Arch streets, Phila.
And are for sale by all druggists and dealers.
Dr. Schenck will be at the Quincy House, Boston, on the following Wednesdays: October 7th and 21st, November 4th and 18th, and December 2d, 16th and 30th. oct8

FOR SALE.
The Atlantic House Building.

THERE is enough good material in this building for half a dozen dwelling houses, or it can be used to great advantage in the erection of a hotel somewhere on the Ocean or Bay shore. The purchaser can obtain through the undersigned, at a very low price, a long lease of a splendid shore lot, with a bathing beach, upon which the hotel could be erected.
This is a fine opportunity for making money, as there is nothing more needed here than a hotel on the shore.
For further particulars, apply to T. C. FORD, Corner of Bellevue avenue and Catherine street. aug14

THE AMERICAN DRAMA.

The most interesting dispute in the list however, is on the revived question whether we have an American drama. It occurs to us that, when such a thing exists, there will be no more remark about it. That we have American plays is certain. Even Daly's "Under the Gas-light" is American in its poor way, and so is his "Divorce,"—a weak copy of the French originals in sentiment, but of originals which a false society in our large cities unfortunately adopts. In Murdoch's "Davy Crocket" we have a beautiful and healthful example of a true American play; transient in its aspects of life, but not more so than those to which we have referred, while it is infinitely above them in tone. Jefferson's "Rip Van Winkle," too, notwithstanding the European origin of its legend, is purely American, and too rare, poetic and artistic to be omitted from our cinima. The "Solon Shingle" of Owens and the "Col Sellers" of Raymond in Mark Twain's "Gilded Age," are unmistakable American character sketches; yet sketches, it must be confessed, do not make a drama. As for the Logan and Boucicault and Gayler trash, and all the low sensations of the "proteau" school, they are worth far less consideration than our negro minstrel programmes,—whose Americanism, by the way, nobody will dispute.

Augustine Daly, the manager and author and Bronson Howard, the author simply, are the parties who have provoked this squabble. Howard wrote, some years ago, a vile five-act farce called "Saratoga," in which the young lady of "the best society" was represented as getting up her love affairs via the New York Herald personals, a newly married widower was jealous of a gay young dandy, his son, and other matters were presented in the same delicate way, with a profusion of insane dialogue. He has just written a new play of more pretensions and the same style of fulfillment. It has been criticised as it deserved, whereupon he and Daly publish letters denouncing the critics as inconsistent, in calling for American plays only to damn them. Howard produced a most amusing tirade, arraigning the critics as brutal, uncultured creatures who wear paper collars and never don kid gloves and don't own dress coats, and consequently have no business to approach with censure an elegant product of civilization like himself, who cannot remember the time when he didn't move in the most aristocratic circles. In all which Mr. Howard only proves that he is a snob.—[Springfield Republican.

EXPORTS OF ANIMAL FOOD.—The average annual exports of pork, bacon, hams and lard from the United States during the four years including 1867 and 1870 were 117,500,000 pounds. In 1873 there were 741,200,000 pounds. The exports of pork and beef amounted in 1870 to $17,210,000, and in 1873 to $70,398,303. The remarkable advance is supposed to be due to social changes in Europe, pork and packed beef having to a large extent replaced the black bread of Germany, while in England and Russia the working classes have increased their purchases of animal food. These changes in the habits of the people have not as yet been met in those countries by an increased production of this class of food.

IS SPAVIN CURABLE?—No, answers a veterinary surgeon, spavin is not curable; never was, never will be, the many quack assertions to the contrary notwithstanding. At this advanced period of information and knowledge in all such and similar matters a man shows himself behind the times when the question of curability of spavin is not with him a settled fact, as an incurable disease. I have been so often asked if spavin or ringbone can be taken off, that I am impatient now the moment such a question is asked. Neither can be cured, but may be so mitigated that the horse may be just as useful as though the exostosis of spavin or ringbone did not exist.

The surest and with me the best remedy is the actual cautary (hot iron) in the hands of a qualified man; none other. Next remedy is active blistering with the common cantharides blister ointment or biniodide of mercury, or iodine ointment, or strong tincture of iodine, applied for several weeks, but firing is the best by far and most effective.

STEEL PLOWS BEST.—A. B. Allen says: "I would sooner pay double the price for steel plows than accept as a gift the best set of cast-iron plows to be found in the United States. Though ever so hard chilled or smoothly polished, cast-iron will foul, more or less, on the mold-board, in every kind of soil, from a sandy or gravelly up to a heavy clay loam. The dirt thus gathered on the mold-board adds greatly to its draft, and prevents a good work. Another objection to cast-iron is, in order to get equal strength the weight must be considerable greater than with steel; and this is a great drag all day, and requires a much stronger team. Of this any one may convince himself, without resort to dynamometers or any other means of testing the drafts. He has only to hitch a light team to a steel plow, and a stronger one to the cast-iron, and work them side by side. In this way I have found that a pair of fourteen hand ponies would do about the same work, and with as much ease to themselves, as a pair of sixteen hand horses. The same observations about material will also apply to cultivators."

PRESERVING MANURE.—The sources of loss in the storage of manure are two: 1st. The escape of volatile ammonia and other gases; and secondly the loss of valuable salts by leaching. The first difficulty may be obvinted by covering the excrement with eight or ten inches of good soil or loam, which will absorb all escaping gases. A bushel or so of plaster may be advantageously scattered over the heap before the soil is thrown on. The whole mass should be perfectly covered, leaving no "chimney" for gaseous exudation. The danger of leaching may be avoided by covering the heap with hay or straw sufficiently thick to shed most of the rain. If kept in this way a sufficient time the manure will undergo spontaneous decomposition, the products of which will be ready for immediate assimilation by plants. The usual process of carting manure to the fields in the Autumn is to waste, by both the above processes, some of their most valuable constituents.

FLAX CULTURE.—Flax is an annual, and is easily reared; it grows in a great variety of latitude. In the flax districts of New York state the best barley land is considered the best for raising flax. "Out West," new prairie, well drained, and old turf lands, or any good corn land or rich silicious soil, in good tilth, are recommended. Flax grows well in any moist, deep, strong loam; a light sandy soil should be avoided, as well as very low lands or river bottoms, which are liable to produce mildew. An impression exists in certain districts of New York state that flax is exhaustive of the soil, etc. All experience shows this to be erroneous, when flax is properly managed, and not raised too frequently on the same soil. On no account should flax follow flax, or should it be grown on the same soil oftener than six or seven years. The following may be accepted as a safe rotation. First year, potatoes; second, oats; third, grass; fourth, hay and beans; fifth wheat; sixth, flax.

THE DAY.

In English diplomacy a white man is worth $2500 and a black man, $1500; at least, that was the basis on which Spain settled for the British subjects who were murdered by Burriel for being on board the Virginius.

Mayor Havemeyer of New York died very suddenly of apoplexy last night. He was seventy years old, very wealthy, had twice been mayor and was once defeated for that postion, and his present term of service would have expired with this year.

A Prussian editor, Herr Sigl, asserted that Kullman's attack on Bismarck was a put up job on the part of the police and for that the courts have "fought mit Sigl" and sentenced him to ten months imprisonment. One way to keep a police force above reproach is to punish everybody who reproaches it.

The ravages of the small pox are creating much excitement in New York. A boy named Schneider was kept through a twelve days' sickness by small pox without medical aid because his father was afraid the knowledge of the sickness would drive the tenants out of the house. The revolting facts were not known until the boy died.

The month which closed yesterday was a remarkable one It contained but three unpleasant days and the temperature of the month was that of October rather than November. December and Winter open upon us today with a low temperature, but a clear, sunny and bracing atmosphere that makes the cold less noticeable, and, in accordance with all accepted theories, is promotive of health and good spirits. It is noteworthy that when the blues are in the sky they are seldom in the mind.

The king of the Cannibal Islands, who is known to literature as Hoky Poky Winky Wung, but whose real name is Kalakua, has arrived at San Francisco and been received with salvos of artillery and a military parade. Having overcome his appetite for a woman pudding with baby sauce, and little boy pie for a second course, it is considered safe to let him roam around in this free country without a muzzle, but if his instincts get the better of his breeding and he undertakes to lunch off a plump maiden or satisfy his hunger with stewed juveniles the New York Herald will send its menagerie reporter to do justice to the occasion. We take the liberty of mentioning to Kalakua that the average American citizen is not so free from the unpleasant flavor of tobacco and whiskey as were the missionaries whose choice bits used to adorn the side-board of his ancestors.

A DISCLAIMER.

To the Editor of the News:—

"Querist" wants to be enlightened on the subject of the action of sunlight on fire. I have not given the matter a moment's thought but have noticed that the sun has many times kindled a fire but have never known it to put one out.

NOVICE.

THE SOLAR FIRE ENGINE.

To the Editor of the News:—

In signing himself "Querist" your correspondent of yesterday manifested a delicate appreciation of the eternal fitness of things for he has got hold of the queerest idea I ever heard of. I am not incredulous naturally, have much faith in the traditions of the elders and I listen with more respect to old wives' fables than to young wives' yarns and curtain lectures, but I can't believe everything, and I am not open to conviction in regard to this solar theory. I am careful to look at the moon over my right shoulder, though I have not yet received the good luck that is said to be acquired by that act, but if I have escaped bad luck and slang by never looking at the moon over my left I have much to be thankful for. I do nothing on Friday that I can put off till Saturday, and though in this respect I do not treat Friday very differently from other days, I wish it to be understood that I believe Friday to be an unlucky day. In states that adhere to capital punishment Friday is usually observed as Dependence day, and this may add to its evil reputation. You and I, Mr. Editor, can never be too thankful that we live in a state where there is no gallows. Nor are these the only instances of my simple faith in the unwritten creed of our greatgrandmothers. I never pack pork in the wane of the moon, regarding my own pork barrel as a more secure and convenient depository for the sweet morsels of that d[illegible] animal upon [illegible] in the gentlemen of the Jewry can never base a verdict. And yet, my pork shrinks so rapidly that perhaps it would be safer in the moon. If it were there I am sure the glass in my cellar windows would be broken less often.

I confess that I have wandered from my theme but I wish to assure you that I am not a skeptic. But I must draw the line of disbelief somewhere and I draw it just this side of the theory that the sun will "douse the glim." The trouble with "Querist" is that he has too much theology for his science. He has read that "Fire ascending seeks the sun," and he concludes that fire, as soon as it sees the sun, will leave the grate and speed him to his source. All fires that I have ever seen need fuel and draft occasionally and when the sun shines into the room they are less liable to receive their needed attention than at other times. Fires are therefore more apt to be low at noon with the sun pouring into the south windows upon the forgotten grate or superfluous stove than at eight o'clock in the evening when the mercury curls up in its little round room with just its nose pointing upward toward the zero point.

I want to know if "Querist" is an homeopathist that he should propose to extinguish fire with fire. I want to know whether he allows the use of rising sun polish on his stove and what its effect, if any, is upon the fire. I want to know whether he would dry a wet garment by dipping it into the bay. And finally, I want to know if the physicians at Butler Asylum consider "Querist" sufficiently convalescent to be at home.

If this theory is correct great changes will have to be made in our literature and habits of life. That beautiful poem beginning (and ending, I believe)

Scotland's burning! Scotland's burning!
Pour on water! Pour on water!

will have to be amended by substituting the words

Raise the curtains! Raise the curtains!

for the second line. Our city will have to buy a mammoth reflector with which to concentrate the sun's rays on any building that may take fire in the day time. The moon might be utilized. When Luna has filled her horn with the sun's rays she might advantageously empty them upon a terrestial bon fire. She could then become the patron of insurance men as well as lovers and our fire apparatus would be in a horn.

I dote on science. I admire research. I long to study this new solar phenomenon. I am particularly anxious to watch a stove some evening, in company with one other person, that there may be no mistake about the manifestations, with the gas turned down to an unobtrusive point, to ascertain whether other light than that of the sun, would have a depressing effect on a fire. I wish when "Querist" gets through with this solar problem he would inform us whether an eclipse of one of the heavenly bodies may not be prevented by a municipal election, or other noisy demonstration, as is firmly believed in China.

BASE BURNER.

SUNLIGHT AND FIRE.

To the Editor of the Daily News:—

Your correspondent in yesterday's NEWS asks for the experiences of those who have noticed the effect of sunlight on fire.

A short time since while visiting in a distant city I noticed that the fire, which had been burning brightly in the grate during the day, had begun to show signs of dying out and without any apparent reason. I began to stir it up and was about to put on the blower to revive the fire when my hostess entered the room and on learning the difficulty explained the matter at once by calling my attention to the sun's rays which were resting on the fire through a western window. She told me that she always noticed that it was almost impossible to keep the fire alive when the sun was shining on it and always took the precaution to draw down the shade to shield the fire from the action of the sun.

In speaking on the subject to a friend this morning I was told that he had found it much more difficult to kindle a low fire in the sunshine than in the shade. I remember now, but had almost forgotten it, that in my school days the sunlight entering the school room through a window deadened the fire in the stove so as to very soon require the dampers to be opened. Now the philosophy of the matter I will leave for others more competent than I to explain, but of the fact I am quite convinced.

OLD SOL.

WAKEFIELD.

A large number of the citizens of this town attended the railroad meeting holden in Columbia hall on Saturday morning last, for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the construction of a branch railroad from Kingston station on the N. Y., B. & P. R. R., to Narragansett Pier. The meeting was organized by the choice of Hon. Rowland Hazard for President, and Hon. John Babcock, Secretary. Mr. Prentice, agent for the New York Construction Company, was present, and made some interesting remarks in regard to the building of railroads, and the great benefit which a county receives from the construction of a railway through its business centre. The meeting then proceeded to appoint the necessary committees for making the preliminary arrangements for the construction of a railroad which, when built, will be, it is thought, the greatest blessing which man could possibly bestow upon South Kingstown.

The following are the names of the committees appointed:

Committee on survey—John N. Hazard, Benj. F. Robinson, William G. Caswell.

Committee on land damages—John Babcock, David Sherman, John B. Armstrong.

Committee to see the Stonington Railroad Company and ascertain their Views—Jeremiah P. Robinson, Samuel A. Strong, John G. Clarke.

The committee on survey was authorized to cause the several routes to be examined, and to have surveys made, and report to a meeting to be called by said committee. The expenses of these surveys to be collected by subscription to stock in the road.

A committee of nine was also appointed to solicit stock subscriptions.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the call of the committee on survey.

The gentlemen appointed upon the various committees are fully capable of performing the duties intrusted to them by the citizens of the town, and there is good ground for hoping that the first blow on the new branch railroad to Narragansett Pier, will be struck with the pick before the 25th of December, 1874. The meeting was most harmonious. Every one present seemed to be in favor of commencing the road at the earliest possible moment, and willing to do all in his power to further the object in view.

M. Fillemont, a French scientist, declares that in literature and art nothing great was ever produced by a total abstainer. In this opinion M. Fillemont will doubtless be sustained by intelligent barkeepers everywhere.—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

Dunn will be properly made to the Treasury Department by the parties interested in the vessel and cargo.

The meeting adjourned till Saturday evening.

THE NEW BEDFORD RAILROAD COMPANY.

WHAT THE ENTERPRISE HAS DONE FOR NEW BEDFORD IN EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

The New Bedford Mercury publishes some facts in regard to what the New Bedford Railroad Company has done for the whaling city in the last year and a half. It has of course increased the value of the estates in the vicinity of the tracks, and has benefited the commerce of the city in the following manner: "The erection of the substantial structure on Hathaway & Luce's wharf in connection with the Philadelphia Coal Company creates taxable property to the amount of over $50,000, and at the same time gives New Bedford facilities for carrying on the coal business, which are not surpassed in New England. This company has received at the wharf and forwarded into the country 175,000 tons of coal within the last eighteen months. In the prosecution of this business 320 vessels have been discharged at this wharf, largely increasing the importance of this port as a receiving point; and in refitting each vessel buys more or less supplies, and employs a greater or less number of carpenters in making repairs. The large influx of coal vessels has caused a decline in freights of 20 cents per ton, so that our merchants have the advantage of low prices, and can successfully compete with any neighboring seaboard city. This reduction in freights in the one item of coal for home consumption will amount in one year to $6000. It should also be remembered that this coal business has largely been transferred from our rival neighbor Providence. The New Bedford Railroad Company has erected on Commercial wharf one of the largest and best wharf depots in New England for landing freight easily and quickly, giving merchants the advantage of the latest possible moments in the delivery of goods and orders, previous to the departure of the New York steamers. Of the special advantages which the New Bedford and New York Steamship Company give to our city in passenger accommodations, we have no need to speak; of the reduction in tickets from $1 75 to $3, thus saving to every passenger; and all the advantages in regard to time and convenience which every business man so well knows. It must also be remembered that the stockholders of the New Bedford Railroad are largely interested in the steamboat company, and for every passenger taking the boat line the receipts of the railroad are diminished in proportion. New Bedford stands on an equal footing with Providence in the matter of freights and fares, and it bids fair to increase as rapidly in the future as in the past eighteen months. As regards western freight, New Bedford today receives corn, flour, and lumber from St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, Cincinnati and other points at $5 per car less than Providence does by any of the all-rail routes, and $2 50 per car less than Fall River, and we have reason to believe there is soon to be a further reduction made. A weekly line of steamers would now be in operation between this port and Philadelphia but for the hard times and the great depression in manufacturing business. And in spite of all adverse circumstances, it is the intention to have this line established before April 1, 1875, and also to erect before another year has passed a grain elevator at tide water, and a new passenger depot and a substantial railroad bridge across the river to Fairhaven. A mail car and agent have been placed upon the New Bedford road, running north to Lowell, and carrying the mails of this city to Providence, Fitchburg, and the cities and towns of Vermont and New Hampshire, in much better time than ever before and in returning effecting a like saving of time. So far as relates to fares, the old contracts made by the New Bedford and Taunton, Old Colony, and Boston and Providence railroad companies must be maintained by the present management, but a great improvement has been made in quicker and proper running of trains, and the granting of fewer free passes. We mention these as some of the advantages which New Bedford has received from this road. And we trust the new road, which will bring Fall River within twelve miles of New Bedford, and which will be largely dependent upon this road for facilities in New Bedford, will also be built. We hope also the south route, though much longer (18 miles) and more expensive, costing nearly a million of dollars, will also built if men can be found willing to invest their money in it. It may prove an advantage to the city, notwithstanding this difficulty."

A COLORED VIEW.

WHAT THE COLORED MEN OF THE SOUTH THINK OF THE DEMOCRATIC VICTORIES.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from Tennessee, says: "In Nashville I talked with several colored men, and the feeling among the more intelligent of them was one of profound astonishment at the result of the elections in the North. I say the more intelligent of them, for those who are not intelligent don't believe that the 'Nof' has gone Democratic. You might as well try to convince a Christian that the God he worships has been dethroned and the evil one set up in his stead, as to make the average negro believe that the 'Nof' has gone into the hands of the party called Democratic. It was that section which gave the negro his freedom and all the rights he enjoys. He knows this, and is slow to believe that the 'gov'ment' has fallen into other hands. The intelligent negroes, however, those who can read the papers understandingly, know very well what's up. They are not clamorous for civil rights now, and will be well satisfied if they can without molestation keep what they already have.

"But it is curious to observe the childlike faith which even the more intelligent of them have that Grant will protect them from any reactionary legislation. They suppose that Grant will hold the Democrats well in hand, and not let them do anything serious. The possibility that Grant himself may have to get out of the way two years hence hardly occurs to them. With them Grant is the high and mighty one, the very personification of the government, and perfectly able to turn Democrats out of office if they should come in too fast.

"Quite an intelligent colored man in Nashville told me that he was dumbfoundered by the result of the elections north. He reads the papers, and there are few negroes in Nashville who have a clearer idea of the structure of our government, and the method of government by the people than he. Yet he was so taken aback by the result in the north, that he says he can hardly believe it yet. 'I expected Tennessee would go the way she did,' he said, 'but I never thought that the Democrats would get any of them big Northern states. It looks as though we can't trust the North, if it can all turn over in a day like that, and that we had better look nearer home for friends. A good many I have talked to think we had better split up and vote with the white people. But I tell you it goes against the grain for a colored man to vote the Democratic ticket. But thousands of them will do it hereafter. If we don't have political friends at home, I don't know where in the world we will have them now. It looks rather dark for us.'

"'Will you insist on the civil rights bill?'

"'No, sir. In fact, we never wanted mixed schools. That is all a lie, started to get the white Republicans away from their party. Some big-mouthed niggers may have set up great claims, and bragged what they were going to do, but the great mass of us don't want anything of the sort, and never did. When we travel we would like to have for our money what a white man has for his, but we will yield that rather than have any disturbances. The South is our home; we must be at peace with the people here, no matter if we don't have all our rights.'

"'Do you think the colored people will split up more politically hereafter than heretofore?'

"'Yes, sir. A good many right in this city, who have been swindled out of their hard earnings by the Freedmen's Bank, voted the Democratic ticket. They said that, whatever the Democrats might do, they would not swindle the poor darkey out of his money, like the bank did.'

"I have been told by several that a great many negroes, ordinarily considered quite intelligent, don't believe that Congress has fallen into the hands of the Democrats, for they argue that Grant would not let that happen! They think that Grant controls the whole thing, and, through his soldiers, will keep the Democrats well in subjection."

A FAITHFUL DOG.—The Augusta (Me.) Journal says: "This brief story of the faithfulness of a dog will serve as a counterpart to the affecting exhibition of canine fidelity and intelligence shown by Willie Chase's dog, who so closely attended the dead body of his master after the recent fatal accident in this city. At the time of the funeral of the late Captain B. F. Williard, in North Berwick, quite recently, his faithful dog howled so mournfully that he had to be chained in the barn to lessen the sound. When he was let loose he searched the premises to find his master, and not finding him, he tracked the removal of the body to the grave-yard, where he discovered his master's grave, a half mile or more from the house. And now he daily goes to the grave and mourns and howls for his lost owner."

DIED.

FISH.—In this city, 30th ult., Miss Catherine G. Fish, daughter of the late Peleg and Alice Fish, aged 61 years.

DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP
Cures Bowel or Summer Complaints.
Being composed largely of Brandy, Spices and simple astringents, without a particle of Opiate, has proved after a 25 years' trial superior to any other article for Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Cholera-Morbus, Cholera-Infantum, Colic, Cramp, Sick or Sour Stomach, Sea-Sickness, Dyspepsia, &c., and may be implicitly relied upon in the most severe cases, yet so simple and pleasant that it may be given the most delicate infant. It acts upon the system like water on a wilted plant.
Prepared only by Edward Sutton of Providence, R. I. Sold by all dealers in Medicines. jy3-3m-n&j

☞ If life and health were estimated by dollars and cents, Milk of Magnesia, for dyspepsia, indigestion, headache, sourness or acidity of the stomach, and diseases to which ladies and children are subject, would be worth its weight in gold. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Agents. nov30-1m

A Card to Sensible People.

Rational reader, if the aspect of the weather was uncertain, you would not be foolish enough to venture out without an overcoat or an umbrella. Have the forecast then, to protect yourself at this dangerous season with something more important than either of these articles. Strengthen your stomach and nervous system, regulate your liver and your bowels, tone all your organs and cheer your animal spirits with that agreeable cordial, tonic and alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. So shall you surely escape the diseases which fasten upon the feeble and debilitated.

"Suffer and be strong," says the proverb; but "Be strong that you may not suffer" is the wiser maxim, and of all strengthening preparations this is the safest, the surest, the most genial. As a remedy, as well as an antidote, for dyspepsia, fever and ague, and liver disease, there is no combination of vegetable specifics at present known which even approaches it in efficacy.

Anticipate the enemy. The elements of innumerable diseases are afloat in this raw, damp, mephitic winter air. Will you defend yourself against them or not, good reader? That is the question. A bottle or two of the great defensive medicine of the age, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will so strengthen and brace up your bodily powers as to enable them to laugh a siege to scorn. The morbid matter which was exhaled in perspiration through your pores in summer finds no such free egress now. A powerful counteracting agent is therefore needed, and you have it in Hostetter's Bitters. They neutralize the malarious morbi from which disease originates, and regulate all the secretive organs. Nothing can be more harmless or more healthful; nothing so potent to prevent or cure biliousness, dyspepsia, fever and ague, constipation and general debility, as this wonderful corrective

☞ The mother's trust and infant's friend, Milk of Magnesia. It regulates the bowels, is a safe, pleasant and sure remedy for indigestion, dyspepsia, sick headache, and all diseases arising from the stomach, and is peculiarly adapted for ladies and children. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Agents. nov30 1m

Oh, my back. How often we hear these words, that pain in your back nine times out of ten arises from kidney disease. Hunt's Remedy used as directed will cure all diseases of the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs. Try it. nov28-1w-&j

If Alcoholic Stimulants are taken into the blood the heart works faster, and this unnatural speed wears out the vital machinery. All intoxicating nostrums advertised as "tonics," "renovators," &c., produce this disastrous effect, and should be rejected. DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS—an invigorant without the curse of alcohol—is everywhere supplanting these poisons. nov10 4w

☞ As an anti-acid and remedy for bilious complaints, arising from excess of eating or drinking, Milk of Magnesia is a most potential agent and popular means of cure. It will be found, upon trial, the best remedy ever discovered for the cure of indigestion and kindred ailments. Caswell, Hazard & Co., Agents. nov30-1m

GENERAL NEWS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

A Reason for the Republican Defeat in Maryland.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.

A committee of the Union League of Maryland today presented the resolutions of that organization to the President, attributing the Republican defeat in that state to the appointment of obnoxious men, against the wishes of all true Republicans.

Smuggling on the Canadian Frontier.

The Secretary of the Treasury has decided to institute a general revision of the modes of transportation of dutiable imports across the Canadian frontier. Some relaxations of the law, asked for by railroads crossing this frontier, were admitted in 1872, which have proved injurious in practice, and these have been recalled. Several of the special agents have been assigned to duty under the direct orders of the Secretary, in correcting the abuses of this transit trade, and particularly the abuses that have grown up in the use of locks and seals.

Proposed Consolidation of Post Offices.

Baldwin and Walborns, special agents of the Post Office Department, detailed to visit large post offices to ascertain where expenses can be properly reduced, have recommended that the post office at Brooklyn be discontinued on the 1st of January next, and be consolidated with the New York post office. They say this consolidation would improve the service for Brooklyn and cause a saving of over $30,000 annually.

FROM NEW YORK.

Schooner Sunk in the North River.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.

A schooner, name unknown, was struck by the squall off Carrsbook Island, in the Highlands, Sunday morning, and capsized and sunk. It is supposed all on board perished. The crew consisted of three persons. The schooner now lies in 80 feet of water.

Boss Tweed's Petition for Release from the Penitentiary.

At 12 o'clock today the counsel for Wm. M. Tweed presented to Judge Barret, in the oyer and terminer court, a petition from Wm. M. Tweed, setting forth that he is detained illegally in the penitentiary on a warrant granted on the conviction for misdemeanor by the court, which had, as his counsel informs him and he verily believes, no jurisdiction to try that offence, wherefore he prays for a habeas corpus, returnable on Wednesday morning in the supreme court chambers, commanding the warden to produce him in that court, and return the cause of said detention. The writ was granted.

Discharge of Workmen.

A rumor has obtained currency that a general discharge of navy yard workmen is to take place in a few days. Twenty men were sent off Saturday, and those in the construction department suspended for five days. The number at present employed is less than six hundred, of whom four or five hundred will probably be deposed within the ensuing two weeks. The reason assigned by the officials for this virtual stoppage of work is that the expenses may be kept within the limit of the navy yard appropriation.

Desecration of the Sabbath.

The board of managers of the National Temperance Society has unanimously resolved that the National Temperance Society observes with great regret the open desecration of the Lord's day by liquor selling and theatrical performances, and respectfully solicits the police authorities to enforce the laws on the statute books against these terrible evils. It was also resolved to call a national temperance convention during the coming year at some place in the West, and a committee was chosen to make all the necessary arrangements.

Prof. Marsh's Expedition.

Prof. Marsh and party returned to Fort Laramie yesterday from the Bad Lands, south of Black Hills. They left Red Cloud Agency and crossed White river, notwithstanding Indian threats, and were watched by the Indians every step of their way. After the Indians found the party were really searching for bones and not for gold they were not disturbed, but a constant watch night and day was kept by the guards. The weather was very severe, the thermometer being below zero, but they persevered. The fossil beds explored were of the miocene age, and though limited in extent proved rich beyond expectation. Nearly two tons of fossil bones were collected, most of them rare specimens and many unknown to science. These remains were all of tropical animals entombed in a bed of an ancient lake. Some of them are as large as elephants, others are allied to the camel, rhinoceros and horse. This collection, one of the finest ever made in the West, goes to Yale college, and will settle many doubtful points in paleontology. Prof. Marsh leaves for the East on Tuesday.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The American National Life and Insurance Company.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 30.

This afternoon Judge Bradley, of the probate court, and Judge Beardsley, of the superior court, delivered opinions on the question of the constitutionality of the Connecticut law concerning life insurance companies, raised by special plea of the American National Life and Trust Insurance Company on the application of a trustee for the same. The judges agreed that the enactment was constitutional, and an order was issued citing the company and commissioner before the probate court for a hearing on Monday at 10 A. M.

Arkansas Freebooters.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 30.

On Wednesday night last, five masked men, believed to be Gads Hellers, went to a country store on Petit Jean river, in Yell county, about 70 miles west of this city. They shot and killed the proprietor and robbed the store. They then robbed a trading boat lying in the river, after which they decamped. The sheriff and posse started in pursuit of the robbers, who separated, two coming towards Little Rock, and three going in another direction. The sheriff followed the two first named and overtook them yesterday morning, 16 miles above here. A fight ensued, in which the sheriff was shot and badly wounded by the robbers, who in turn were both badly wounded by the sheriff's posse and captured and brought to this city and lodged in jail. The sheriff will probably recover.

The Will of Moses Day.—Charitable Bequests.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.

The will of the late Moses Day, disposes of $500,000 worth of property, and bequeaths $38,000 to various educational and charitable institutions. He gives $5,000 each to Amherst, Williams, Harvard and Tuft's Colleges, and provides for $50,000 to be expended for charitable purposes and the "extension of Christ's kingdom on earth."

Fall of a Railroad Bridge.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30.

The accommodation train on the Northern Central Railroad this afternoon and the Cockeysville accommodation train for Baltimore met on the iron bridge over Lake Roland, and the bridge gave way. The engines of both trains crossed safely, but the tender and baggage cars of each plunged into the water, followed by the smoking cars, the ends of which were partially submerged. One passenger, Mr. Young, of Baltimore county, was killed. Engineer Purdy, of the Cockeysville train, and Conductor Harris, of the York train, are reported injured.

PERSONALS.

.....The social calendar of Washington announces thirty debutantes this winter.

.....The oldest American poet is Richard H. Dana, of Cambridge, Mass., now in his eighty-eighth year.

.....Instead of "Butler's Analogies" Congress will have "Thompson's Seasons" or two.—[Graphic.

.....There are not more than three or four men in Massachusetts more eligible or worthy to fill Charles Sumner's seat in the Senate than Prof. Seelye.—[Boston News.

.....John Muir, the state geologist of California, made the ascent of Mount Shasta on the 1st of November. This was later in the season than it has ever been made before.

.....General Shafer has made his first report to the Chicago police board. It contains fifteen sets of recommendations, calling for an increase in the fire department force, new purchases of hose, new divisions of districts, and other radical changes. The report was concurred in at once.

.....It makes all the difference in the world whether a man is up or down. In 1870 Von Arnim was ambassador at Rome, and a German sculptor named Schaffer had a grievance against him but not a court in Germany would hear Schaffer's story. Now he is officially invited to make his complaint.

.....Albert Wagner, brother of Richard Wagner, has just died in his seventy-fifth year. He was once a tenor, and latterly the stage manager of the Imperial Opera House, at Berlin. He was the father of the celebrated Johanna Wagner, a prima donna who afterwards turned tragedian. Albert Wagner's name was prominent in English law courts for some time, he having entered into two contracts for his daughter with the managers, Mr. Lumley and Mr. Gye. Lumley won his cause; but when the lady made her first appearance at Her Majesty's Theatre, London, her small success proved that she was not worth the costly litigation.

New Today.

GOSSAMER WATER-PROOF CAPE.

THE MANUFACTURERS claim for the above new style of cape the following:

That they are perfectly water-proof.

That, if worn in the rain twenty four hours, they will not absorb any moisture, while the old style will nearly double its weight, and not keep the wearer dry, either.

That, when rolled-up, they are only seven inches long, and three inches in diameter, and can be carried in the pocket, while the old style is as large and cumbersome as a woolen shawl.

That, being so light-weight, and having no warmth, they are welcomed by all ladies for warm-weather use, or to throw over a winter cloak in cold weather.

That they are not affected by either cold or heat, neither will they become soft and useless with warm damp weather.

That all who have used the Gossamer Capes have expressed themselves perfectly satisfied with them.

That a lady, who has a Gossamer in her pocket, can leave the troublesome umbrella at home, and if the rain comes before she reaches shelter, with the Cape thrown over her, and the Hood over the bonnet, she is far better protected than she could be with the umbrella.

For sale at manufacturers' prices.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1874.

GOSSIP ABOUT GRANT AND SHERMAN.—I heard something not long since from one of the president's old companions in arms, who was for years his most intimate friend. He says that the President's sobriquet in the army used to be "Truthful Grant." He stuck to facts unflinchingly and to such an extent that when he told a good story and embellished it a little to make it the better he would invariably before leaving the room confess to the exact amount of embellishment. A coarse story or jest he would never tolerate, and he was never known to swear, never using profane language at any time or under any provocation. Well, we have lost our gallant general of the army and his family, all of whom had won so much reverence and affection from all who knew them here. General Sherman's social abilities are really wonderful. He talks a great deal, but always to the point, and rarely speaks without giving some information of value, yet is never pedantic. Mrs. Sherman is the gentlest and most amiable of women, and while not caring for society always adorns any circle she may enter. The general told me he could not think it right with a young family growing up around him to remain in Washington, where the social demands were so great. "We are public property here," he said. "In St. Louis we shall be a private family." Just before the wedding, when making a call at his house and witnessing the preparations for the great event, I said to him: "General Sherman, for once you've surrendered. You've surrendered to the ladies of your family, as women are always paramount at weddings, and men have to do as they are bid." "But I haven't surrendered," the soldier promptly replied; "when I march in a civic procession I always go where the chief marshal directs me. Mrs. Sherman is chief marshal now, and I shall go where I am told to go, but it's no surrender." It was, indeed, no surrender. The one bow General Sherman made during the church ceremonial was in response to the very graceful salutation of the groom when the father gave up his daughter. General Sherman is not a Catholic and makes no secret of it, and while most Protestants bent their heads in token of respect during the prayers, General Sherman sat bolt upright and made no concessions.—[Washington Letter in the Graphic.

FARMING IN GEORGIA.—The Atlanta Herald of the 15th inst. speaks enthusi astically of the profits of farming in Georgia. It says: "In yesterday's Herald it was shown that a Georgia farmer, upon a one-horse farm, had made in one year $2,491 clear money; that another, upon a two-horse farm, had produced crop that sold for $3,297, and cleared in net cash $2,912; that another farmer had, upon four acres, made a full and abundant living for a family of eight people, and had laid up money besides; and that a Georgia boy under twenty years of age, by his labor upon the farm, supported himself and sold produce to the amount of $620. The process by which these wonderful results have been achieved is perfectly simple, and its accomplishment lies within the compass of any average man. It is no trouble to get land. There are thousands of broad acres in Georgia, clothed with virgin forests, with all their rich loam, yet untouched by the hand of man. There are thousands of acres lying fallow for the want of strong arms and willing hands to make them spring into bloom and beauty. And yet a three-line advertisement in the Herald of last week, asking for salesmen in a dry-goods store, brought sixty-two applications before one o'clock on the day on which it first appeared. Why some of these surplus young gentlemen do not adjourn to the country, and get down to work, is a mystery we are unable to solve."

PRESERVING GRAPES.—A French viniculturist has lately published a process by which he has preserved the freshness, beauty and scent of grapes as late as the month of April. The fruit is left upon the vine up to the last moment, but must be cut, before the first frost at the second or third joint below the cluster. The cut end is then covered with wax to prevent the escape of vegetable fluids, and then thrust into a bottle of water through a perforated cork. A little charcoal in the water preserves its purity. The cork is then covered with sealing-wax, air-tight, and the bottles placed in a dry room, where the temperature never falls below the freezing point, and carefully kept in an erect position, the clusters not being allowed to touch each other. Every imperfect grape must be removed as fast as it shows signs of falling.

Catarrh and Polypus.

Home Testimony.

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 6th, 1874.

This is to proclaim what Dr. Carpenter has done for me. I suffered from Catarrh 40 years, and the last 10 years my nasal passages were filled with Polypus. I employed physicians from time to time, and two years ago, went to Boston, and was doctored there three months, and left off worse than I began, and I was almost discouraged. But I felt that I must do something, for I was obliged to keep my mouth open and my health was becoming impaired. So I went to Fall River last Spring, and placed myself under the care of Dr. Carpenter. His treatment proved highly satisfactory. He removed and cured the Polypus, I can breathe naturally, the Catarrh troubles me very little and altogether I am comfortable and as well as a man 60 years of age can expect to be, and I hope this testimony may be the means of securing relief to other sufferers. I reside in Middletown.
ASA PECKHAM.

Permanent Cures of Scrofulous Catarrh.

Testimony of a Citizen of Newport.

My son and daughter were sufferers from Scrofulous Catarrh from birth, and with discharges, swellings upon their necks; and an utter inability to breathe through the nose, they were uncomfortable enough, when we placed them under the care of Dr. Carpenter in 1865. His remedies cured them in a few months and they remain well to this day. I publish this with the hope it may be the means of securing relief to others.

FALL RIVER, Jan. 22, 1874.

W. H. CARPENTER, M. D.,—My Dear Sir:—Allow me thus publicly to express my gratitude for the great benefit conferred upon me by your treatment. I was afflicted for years with Catarrh which had become a constant torment to me, the irritation and inflammation having increased until ulceration was the consequence. Your treatment has been attended with the happiest results. I am now comfortable, my head feels well, and I believe myself cured of that terrible disease.
JOHN BEATTIE, JR.

Mr. Beattie is of the well-known Firm of Wm. & J. Beattie, Jr., Granite Dealers and Contractors, 2 Quarry street.

Testimony of Mr. Burns,

GROCER AT 42 FERRY STREET.

(From Fall River News.)

For the good of the community, and Dr. Carpenter, of the Mount Hope House, I advertise my cure. I suffered many years from a dangerous, disagreeable disease of my head, was not able to breathe through my nose, and the collections passed down my throat, and was gradually undermining my health. Dr. Carpenter's treatment, last Spring, cured me. I am now well, and in good condition.
HENRY BURNS.
Fall River, Oct. 8th, 1874.

DEAFNESS CURED.

STATEMENT OF A RESIDENT OF FALL RIVER.

This certifies that Dr Carpenter, at the Mount Hope House, has cured me of Deafness and Discharges of the Ear of many years' standing. When I applied to Dr. C., I could not hear unless addressed close to my ear, and was totally unfit for business. A course of Dr. C.'s treatment has cured the discharges, and restored my hearing so that I can hear the tick of a watch a foot from my ear, and ordinary conversation without difficulty. My friends are more than pleased, for they did not think I could be cured, as I had been treated by several doctors and received no benefit.—As my acquaintance in Fall River is not large I will refer to Mr. Geo. B. Buffinton, No. 57 Pleasant street, who is well known and conversant with all the facts of my case.
GEO. G. C. HANLON,
45 Second Street.
Fall River, Oct. 1.

A CARD FROM WALTER SCOTT, Esq.,

EDITOR OF BORDER CITY HERALD, OF FALL RIVER.

I have known Dr. Carpenter since he commenced practice in this city, and I am satisfied that he is a skillful physician and has been successful in the treatment of a great majority of the cases in which he has been consulted. Of my own personal knowledge, I have reason to testify that quite a number of the individuals cured were nearly hopeless in their condition; some about blind, others deaf, and others laboring under Bronchial and Catarrhal affections, and I have seen the same persons restored under his treatment to their normal state of health. I therefore, knowing these things, without hesitation recommend him to persons suffering from the maladies he has made his special study for years.
WALTER SCOTT.

VOICE RESTORED.

TESTIMONY OF MISS GARDNER.

(From Fall River News.)

DR. CARPENTER:—Dear Sir,—My thanks and gratitude are yours. When we consulted you last April, I was miserable indeed; I had lost both my health and my voice, and for two and a half years I could only whisper faintly. I had been doctored so much that we had little faith in the ability of any physician to restore me, but your treatment has performed a cure. I can talk aloud, and my health is good, better than for years. You may publish this if you wish; and as I do not reside in Fall River, I will refer to Mr. Wm. H. Mason, No. 44 North Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Mason Bounds, No. 61 Durfee street, with whom I resided during treatment. Respectfully yours,
MISS HATTIE GARDNER.
Swansea, Mass., Sept. 10 1874.

Scrofula and St. Vitus Dance Cured.

(From Fall River Herald.)

When we took our daughter Ellen to Dr. Carpenter last May, at the Mount Hope House, she was in a terrible condition from Scrofula and St. Vitus Dance, and was not willing to go among folks, for her limbs jerked and twitched so she had not much control over them, but through Dr. Carpenter's skill she has been restored and is now well. We want this cure known, for some of our acquaintances have taken their children to Europe for treatment, thinking they could not be cured in this country. This case is well known by our neighbors.

FALL RIVER, May 23, 1874.

To my Friends and the Public:

It affords me great satisfaction to be able to testify to the success of Dr. Carpenter in the treatment of my Ears, which were a source of trouble and annoyance to me more than twenty years. Dr. C.'s treatment restored them, and they have been well several months. I have great confidence in Dr. Carpenter's skill and success in practice, and do not hesitate to recommend him.

Catarrh and Blindness.

(From Fall River News.)

Testimony of Mrs. J. Clomb, of Fall River.

I was diseased with an aggravated form of Catarrh ten years, and in consequence my eyes became affected in December last, and grew worse until I could not go about without being led. Was under the care of several doctors and at the Boston Infirmary, but got no help until I consulted Dr. Carpenter at the Mount Hope House, April 24. Under his treatment I began to improve immediately, and now I consider myself cured. I think everyone should know there is a physician in Fall River who can cure such diseases. As I am not very well known in this city, I am at liberty to refer to W. Scott, Esq., No. 1 Ferry street, who saw me when I was in a state of Blindness and since I was cured.

THE REMINGTON

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are rapidly gaining favor in every household where they are introduced. While it is not our purpose to depreciate any Sewing Machine, we claim that our machines are so complete as to overcome all the principal objections that are found in shuttle sewing machines. That which has long been sought by every Sewing Machine Co. in the land, has been obtained in our Machines: an even, round, bird's eye stitch on all kinds of goods, coarse or fine, without the use of COG-WHEEL GEARS, ROTARY CAMS, OR LEVERS. The silence and smoothness of the motion, is a positive proof that it will continue to run well for years without expense.

This NEW FAMILY MACHINE is capable of a range and variety of work such as it was once thought impossible to perform by machinery. It is remarkable not only for the range and variety of its sewing, but also for the variety and different kinds of texture which it will sew with equal facility and perfection, using silk twist, linen or cotton thread, fine or coarse, making the INTERLOCKED ELASTIC STITCH, alike on both sides of the fabric sewn. Thus beaver cloth or leather may be sewn with great strength and uniformity of stitch; and in a moment, this willing and never-wearying instrument may be adjusted for fine work on gauze or gossamer tissue, or the tucking of tarletan, or ruffling, or almost any other work which delicate fingers have been known to perform.

The Style and Finish

Of our Machine is all that can be desired. Every part of the machinery is constructed with the greatest care. It is completely and tastefully ornamented in various styles, at an expense that is put upon very few machines in market.
